WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/US05/00885

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43 bis.1(a)(I) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims 13-18, 20	YES
	Claims 1-12, 19	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims NONE	YES
	Claims 1-20	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-20	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. Citations and explanations:

Claims 1-5, 12 and 19 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by McGarrah, US 6,023,870.

With respect to claims 1, 12, and 19, McGarrah teaches a vending machine 10 having a front display panel and a plurality of statically adhered sheets 12, 72, 73, and 74 removably attached to the display panel.

With respect to claims 2-3 and 9-10, the statically adhered sheets 12, 72-74 can be decorative or functional.

With respect to claim 4, the sheets are attached to a vending machine.

With respect to claims 5 and 10, the sections are statically adhered to the surface of display panel.

Claims 1-3 and 5-12 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Ages, US 3,513,580.

With respect to claims 1 and 12, Ages teaches a laminated display form for attachment to a watch comprising a sheet 10 having a plurality of separable section 12, wherein each section is removably attached by adhesive to the surface of a watch. The sheet 10 has along the bottom instructional or installation guide for attaching the section to the watch.

With respect to claims 2-3 and 9-10, the sections 12 can be decorative or functional.

With respect to claims 5 and 10, the sections are adhered to the surface of the watch.

With respect to claims 6-8 and 11, Ages teaches an installation guide in the form of written instruction on the bottom of the form 12.

With respect to claim 12, since the vending machine is not positively claimed, display form taught by Ages meets the claimed limitations.

Claims 13-18 and 20 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over McGarrah, US 6,023,870 in view of Ages, US 3,513,580.

McGarrah teaches a vending machine 10 having a front display panel and a plurality of statically adhered sheets 12, 72, 73, and 74 removably attached to the display panel. McGarrah does not teach installation guide or instructional indicial.

Ages teaches a laminated display form for attachment to a watch comprising a sheet 10 having a plurality of separable section 12, wherein each section is removably attached by adhesive to the surface of a watch. The sheet 10 has along the bottom instructional or installation guide for attaching the section to the watch.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time this invention was made to construct the statically adhered sheets taught by McGarrah with instructional indicia or installation guide as taught by Ages to provide a means to instruct a user how the sheets are to be attached to a support surface such as the display surface.

With respect to claims 14-15, the statically adhered sheets 12, 72-74 taught by McGarrah can be decorative or functional.

With respect to claim 16, McGarrah teaches a vending machine.

International application No.
PCT/US05/00885

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43 bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims 13-18, 20	YES
	Claims 1-12, 19	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims NONE	YES
	Claims 1-20	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-20	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. Citations and explanations:

Claims 1-5, 12 and 19 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by McGarrah, US 6,023,870.

With respect to claims 1, 12, and 19, McGarrah teaches a vending machine 10 having a front display panel and a plurality of statically adhered sheets 12, 72, 73, and 74 removably attached to the display panel.

With respect to claims 2-3 and 9-10, the statically adhered sheets 12, 72-74 can be decorative or functional.

With respect to claim 4, the sheets are attached to a vending machine.

With respect to claims 5 and 10, the sections are statically adhered to the surface of display panel.

Claims 1-3 and 5-12 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Ages, US 3,513,580.

With respect to claims 1 and 12, Ages teaches a laminated display form for attachment to a watch comprising a sheet 10 having a plurality of separable section 12, wherein each section is removably attached by adhesive to the surface of a watch. The sheet 10 has along the bottom instructional or installation guide for attaching the section to the watch.

With respect to claims 2-3 and 9-10, the sections 12 can be decorative or functional.

With respect to claims 5 and 10, the sections are adhered to the surface of the watch.

With respect to claims 6-8 and 11, Ages teaches an installation guide in the form of written instruction on the bottom of the form 12.

With respect to claim 12, since the vending machine is not positively claimed, display form taught by Ages meets the claimed limitations.

Claims 13-18 and 20 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over McGarrah, US 6,023,870 in view of Ages, US 3,513,580.

McGarrah teaches a vending machine 10 having a front display panel and a plurality of statically adhered sheets 12, 72, 73, and 74 removably attached to the display panel. McGarrah does not teach installation guide or instructional indicial.

Ages teaches a laminated display form for attachment to a watch comprising a sheet 10 having a plurality of separable section 12, wherein each section is removably attached by adhesive to the surface of a watch. The sheet 10 has along the bottom instructional or installation guide for attaching the section to the watch.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time this invention was made to construct the statically adhered sheets taught by McGarrah with instructional indicia or installation guide as taught by Ages to provide a means to instruct a user how the sheets are to be attached to a support surface such as the display surface.

With respect to claims 14-15, the statically adhered sheets 12, 72-74 taught by McGarrah can be decorative or functional.

With respect to claim 16, McGarrah teaches a vending machine.
